

AIMU Carrier Insolvency Extra Expense

In the event of the termination of the insured voyage at a place other than the final destination due to insolvency and/or financial default of the carrier, while in the normal course of transit as defined within the scope of this contract, the additional freight charges to forward the goods and/or merchandise to the final destination are a recoverable expense under this policy. The maximum limit of coverage afforded by this clause shall not exceed the lesser of the value of the shipment or USD _____ per occurrence.